

Canada's source for
HIV and hepatitis C
information

La source canadienne
de renseignements sur
le VIH et l'hépatite C

Disclaimer

Decisions about particular medical treatments should always be made in consultation with a qualified medical practitioner knowledgeable about HIV, hepatitis C, related illness and the treatments in question.

CATIE provides information resources to help people who wish to support others or manage their own health care in partnership with their care providers. Information accessed through or published or provided by CATIE, however, is not to be considered medical advice. We do not recommend or advocate particular treatments and we urge users to consult as broad a range of sources as possible. We strongly urge users to consult with a qualified medical practitioner prior to undertaking any decision, use or action of a medical nature.

CATIE endeavours to provide the most up-to-date and accurate information at the time of publication. However, information changes and users are encouraged to consult as broad a range of sources as possible. Users relying on this information do so entirely at their own risk. Neither CATIE, nor any of its partners, funders, employees, directors, officers or volunteers may be held liable for damages of any kind that may result from the use or misuse of any such information. The views expressed herein or in any article or publication accessed or published or provided by CATIE do not necessarily reflect the policies or opinions of CATIE nor the views of the Public Health Agency of Canada, the Ontario Ministry of Health and Long-Term Care or other funders or partners.

Please be advised that information on safer sex practices and safer drug use is presented as a public health service to help people make healthier choices to reduce the spread of HIV, viral hepatitis and other infections. These resources are not intended to encourage or promote the use or possession of illegal drugs. These resources available through CATIE may not be appropriate for people of all ages.

While CATIE is hosting numerous social media sites, we do not guarantee the accuracy or completeness of any information published or provided on these social media platforms, and cannot be held accountable for the content posted by others.

The views expressed via social media venues accessed or published or provided by CATIE are solely those of the authors and do not reflect the policies or opinions of CATIE nor the views of the Public Health Agency of Canada nor the Ontario Ministry of Health and Long-Term Care or other funders or partners.

This site contains links to third-party websites ("Linked Sites"). The Linked Sites are not under the control of CATIE and CATIE is not responsible for the contents of any Linked Site, including any link contained in a Linked Site or any changes or updates to a Linked Site. The Linked Sites may not be available in French or English. CATIE is providing these links to you only as a convenience, and the inclusion of any link does not imply endorsement by CATIE of the Linked Site or any association with its operators. We do not guarantee the accuracy or completeness of any information accessed through or published or provided by the Linked Site and if you rely upon any such information, you do so entirely at your own risk. You are responsible for viewing and abiding by the privacy statements and terms of use posted at the Linked Sites. Any specific comments or inquiries regarding the Linked Sites should be directed to the operator of the Linked Site.

June 2018

Produced By:

Canada's source for
HIV and hepatitis C
information

555 Richmond Street West, Suite 505, Box 1104
Toronto, Ontario M5V 3B1 Canada
Phone: 416.203.7122
Toll-free: 1.800.263.1638
Fax: 416.203.8284
www.catie.ca
Charitable registration number: 13225 8740 RR

Disclaimer

Decisions about particular medical treatments should always be made in consultation with a qualified medical practitioner knowledgeable about HIV- and hepatitis C-related illness and the treatments in question.

CATIE provides information resources to help people living with HIV and/or hepatitis C who wish to manage their own health care in partnership with their care providers. Information accessed through or published or provided by CATIE, however, is not to be considered medical advice. We do not recommend or advocate particular treatments and we urge users to consult as broad a range of sources as possible. We strongly urge users to consult with a qualified medical practitioner prior to undertaking any decision, use or action of a medical nature.

CATIE endeavours to provide the most up-to-date and accurate information at the time of publication. However, information changes and users are encouraged to ensure they have the most current information. Users relying solely on this information do so entirely at their own risk. Neither CATIE nor any of its partners or funders, nor any of their employees, directors, officers or volunteers may be held liable for damages of any kind that may result from the use or misuse of any such information. Any opinions expressed herein or in any article or publication accessed or published or provided by CATIE may not reflect the policies or opinions of CATIE or any partners or funders.

Information on safer drug use is presented as a public health service to help people make healthier choices to reduce the spread of HIV, viral hepatitis and other infections. It is not intended to encourage or promote the use or possession of illegal drugs.

Permission to Reproduce

This document is copyrighted. It may be reprinted and distributed in its entirety for non-commercial purposes without prior permission, but permission must be obtained to edit its content. The following credit must appear on any reprint: This information was provided by CATIE (the Canadian AIDS Treatment Information Exchange). For more information, contact CATIE at 1.800.263.1638.

© CATIE

Production of this content has been made possible through a financial contribution from the Public Health Agency of Canada.

Available online at:
<http://www.catie.ca/en/disclaimer>