

The Right to Equitable Health

Get tested to know your status

ABORIGINAL AIDS AWARENESS WEEK

December 1st - 6th

December 6, 2017

1:00pm - 5:00pm

Holistic Health for Indigenous people Living with and at Risk of HIV

Location: the 519 Church St. Ballroom (Second Floor)
Toronto, ON

Sex POZitivity Health Fair and Sex-Toy Bingo

We hope to see you at this fun and engaging event, where First Nations, Métis and Inuit people living with and at risk for HIV can connect with organizations that support wholistic health. Take part in the Sex-Toy Bingo for a chance to win various gendered sex toys. Get a passport, and visit organizations at the Sex POZitivity Health Fair to learn more about services available, and get all the stamps! During this gathering, we will honor the history of the lives that been lost to the AIDS epidemic and acknowledge Indigenous influences in treatment, prevention, education, and activism. This event builds awareness that sex is fine, to reduce stigma, and promote healthy sexual practices as determined by the individual.

Co-hosts: Ontario Aboriginal HIV/AIDS Strategy (Oahas), Ontario HIV Treatment Network (OHTN), 2 Spirited People of the 1St Nations, CAAN

Contacts:

Aaron Bowerman, aaronb@oahas.org, 416-220-4942 (mobile)
Jessica Demaria, jdmeria@ohntn.on.ca, 416-642-6486 Ext. 2215
Kerrigan Beaver, kerrigan@2spirits.com

aboriginalaidsawareness.com

www.caan.ca

Funding Made Possible By  